Splat the Cat

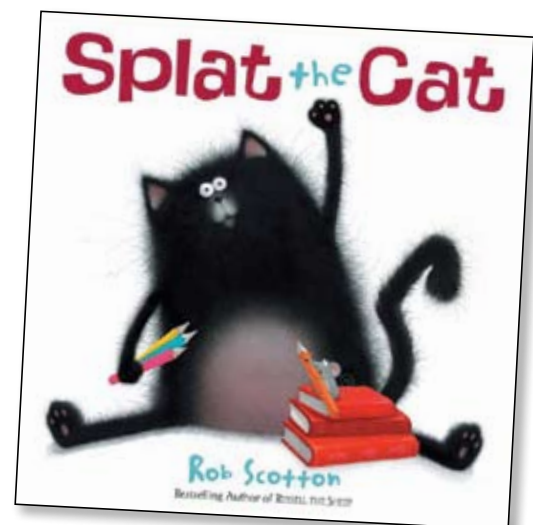

Written by Rob Scotton

Booktalk!

"It's time to wake up, Splat," said Mom. His tail wiggled, wild with worry. Splat is nervous he won't make any friends, so he takes Seymour, his pet mouse, along in his lunchbox. Were you ever worried about the first day of school?

All the cats welcome Splat, and their teacher, Mrs. Wimpydimple, tells the class about the wonderful things they need to know about cats. They are amazing, and quick, and climb trees. They drink milk and chase mice. Splat doesn't understand why cats chase mice, but his teacher explains, "It is just something we do."

At lunchtime, Splat opens his lunchbox and Seymour comes out. The whole class chases the mouse. Can Seymour outsmart them? Will Splat save his little friend and save the day?

Best for grades K-3
