Tunnels

Written by Roderick Gordon & Brian Williams

Booktalk!

Does your family have secrets? Do you really understand your parents and siblings? Will Burrows thinks he has an irregular, but decent, life. He spends a lot of time working on local archaeological digs with his father, while his mother watches television all day and night, and his 12-year-old sister, Rebecca, keeps the house running smoothly. When Dr. Burrows mysteriously disappears, Will knows he will have to dig into the subterranean world they've discovered to find him. Along with his best friend, Chester, they are sucked into a dark and terrifying world, which they fear they cannot survive. If only they can find his father, they might be saved! Come along on this incredible ride into Tunnels...
